

THAW CAPTURED SOON AFTER LEAVING CANADA

SHERIFF COMMANDS HIM TO HALT AND HE OBEYS

Canadian Official Drops Him over the Border at an Early Hour.

FIGHTS HIS CAPTORS

Jerome and New York State Officials Are Informed of His Arrest.

COLEBROOK, N. H., Sept. 10.—Harry K. Thaw enjoyed three brief hours of liberty today, but was arrested shortly before noon on a country road five miles from here by Sheriff Drew, of Coos county.

Thaw, in an automobile with newspaper men, was driving down the road and had reached a little school house when an automobile containing the sheriff appeared in sight. The sheriff, recognizing Thaw, held up his hand for the car to stop. Thaw ordered the chauffeur to bring the car to a standstill and then alighted. He went into the sheriff's car without protest.

The party then proceeded to Colebrook. Thaw was not looked up but was taken to the office of Thomas Johnson, a local attorney, whom he retained as his legal adviser.

RACES BAREHEADED

During the early part of his flight from Norton Mills, Thaw lost his hat and when he reached here he wore a cap, borrowed from some of his newspaper companions. His only possession was a bunch of cigars.

Sheriff Drew wired W. T. Jerome of the arrest of Thaw and requested Jerome to come here and take charge of the fugitive. Later in the day Thaw will be taken to Lancaster, the county seat, and confined in jail.

On reaching Averhill, Thaw attempted to get into telephonic communication with his mother and lawyers in Montreal but was unsuccessful owing to the bad condition of the line.

CANADIAN OFFICIAL REJECTS HIS APPEAL

OTTAWA, Ontario, Sept. 10.—C. J. Doherty, as acting minister of the Interior Department, today said he had rejected Thaw's appeal from the decision of the immigration board of inquiry upholding the findings of the board and ordering the deportation of Thaw forthwith. This order was carried out this morning. The writ of habeas corpus issued at Montreal, said the minister, did not enjoin the immigration authorities from taking this step.

HARRY FREE AS ANY MAN FOR A RATHER BRIEF PERIOD

COATICOOK, Sept. 10.—Harry K. Thaw, removed forcibly from his quarters here, was at noon a free man in American territory, traveling in an automobile with a number of American newspaper men.

Thaw was dropped over the border into Vermont. Alone, dazed and free he did not know what to do. The newspaper men following him took him into their car and he traveled with them. In the early afternoon they had passed from Vermont into New Hampshire. As the car progressed the newspaper men reported Thaw's movements.

Armed with written orders to deport Thaw, issued by the acting minister of the Interior, Assistant Superintendent of Immigration Blake Robertson came unheralded to Coaticook last night. He told no one of his plans except the subordinates necessary to aid in executing them.

Accompanied by his subordinates Robertson went to Thaw's quarters shortly after 8 o'clock this morning. They saw Thaw fed and dressed and about to start on what he called his day's work. Robertson, as spokesman for the group, told Thaw he had orders to deport him to Vermont.

Thaw could not have been more surprised had he been told he was free. Before he could reply, Robertson ordered him to get ready for the trip, adding that an automobile was waiting for a dash to the border.

Thaw's surprise changed to fury and picking up a bottle hurled it at Robertson. The bottle went wide of its target, crashed through a window and broke in the roadside.

EMBARGO ON COAL FIELDS OF STATE

Fights His Captors.

Robertson and his men seized Thaw and ejected him from the room.

As Thaw was carried down stairs to the automobile, he kicked and fought his captors, shouting that he was being kidnapped.

Robertson sought to quiet him by assuring him that the proceedings were entirely regular. With the prisoner safe, the entire body entered the car and whirled away to the border.

Townpeople unloosed their indignation and when the news became general they sought out Hector Verrett, of counsel for New York for an explanation but he had none to offer. Neither he nor Jerome had been told of the deportation plan.

Thaw was fifteen minutes away, well on the road to the international line before the newspaper squad learned what had happened. They followed him. He crossed the line near Norton Mills at 8:50 o'clock. When he was well within the state the officials stopped their car, deposited him on the ground, told him he was free and left him.

RACES ACROSS VERMONT DOES HE IN A MACHINE.

BEECHER FALLS, Vt., Sept. 10.—Racing across the state of Vermont in an automobile with two correspondents, Harry Thaw crossed the Connecticut river at 10 o'clock and stopped at West Stewartstown in the state of New Hampshire. On reaching Norton Mills, Vt., where he had been taken by Dominion officials, Thaw entered the correspondents' automobile and proceeded to Averhill, a small village, where he had breakfast at the inn. Engaging another car, the Matteawan fugitive and newspaper men then crossed into New Hampshire. Thaw's haste to leave Vermont was probably due to his knowledge that a warrant for his arrest was awaiting service in that state.

STATE AUTHORITIES VERY MUCH SURPRISED.

ALBANY, N. Y., Sept. 10.—The

(Continued on page eight.)

SUFFRAGISTS WITH VOTES WILL TEACH THE VOTERS; NATIONAL COUNCIL OPENS CAMPAIGN OF EDUCATION ON CIVIC QUESTIONS

GRAFTON, Sept. 10.—Many lives were placed in jeopardy and William Kelly, a driver, was perhaps fatally injured during a circus parade here when the horses to a wheel cage of leopards bolted down the streets lined with people. After a half mile dash the cage was overturned injuring the driver and nearly demolishing the cage but the escape of the leopards was prevented. The horses continued their flight until lassoed by cowboys on horseback.

STATE AUTHORITIES VERY MUCH SURPRISED.

ALBANY, N. Y., Sept. 10.—The

(Continued on page eight.)

HARRY FREE AS ANY MAN FOR A RATHER BRIEF PERIOD

COATICOOK, Sept. 10.—Harry K. Thaw, removed forcibly from his quarters here, was at noon a free man in American territory, traveling in an automobile with a number of American newspaper men.

Thaw was dropped over the border into Vermont. Alone, dazed and free he did not know what to do. The newspaper men following him took him into their car and he traveled with them. In the early afternoon they had passed from Vermont into New Hampshire. As the car progressed the newspaper men reported Thaw's movements.

Armed with written orders to deport Thaw, issued by the acting minister of the Interior, Assistant Superintendent of Immigration Blake Robertson came unheralded to Coaticook last night. He told no one of his plans except the subordinates necessary to aid in executing them.

Accompanied by his subordinates Robertson went to Thaw's quarters shortly after 8 o'clock this morning. They saw Thaw fed and dressed and about to start on what he called his day's work. Robertson, as spokesman for the group, told Thaw he had orders to deport him to Vermont.

Thaw could not have been more surprised had he been told he was free. Before he could reply, Robertson ordered him to get ready for the trip, adding that an automobile was waiting for a dash to the border.

Thaw's surprise changed to fury and picking up a bottle hurled it at Robertson. The bottle went wide of its target, crashed through a win-

Regarding Labor is Alleged by Witness before Investigation Committee.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 10.—That Former Immigration Commissioner Keefe ordered the Ellis Island station to send no laborers to the West Virginia mine strike district because it was not unionized, was told to the Senate investigating committee today by William H. Ord, who went to New York and was told by C. L. Greene, head of the immigrant distribution division, that Washington had embargoed immigrants to their fields. The embargo later was raised three days to let the Consolidation Coal Company get men, he said.

State Commissioner Nugent made a visit to Washington and was told the West Virginia mines could have no more immigrants until they were unionized.

Greene said it was the policy of the immigration service not to direct immigrants to mines, where they might "cause explosions." He said he received orders from Keefe that the service was sending no immigrants to lead mines. Keefe was a labor union official before becoming head of the immigration service.

CIRCUS RUNAWAY

Results in Fatal Injuries to a Driver and Others Are in Jeopardy.

GRAFTON, Sept. 10.—Many lives were placed in jeopardy and William Kelly, a driver, was perhaps fatally injured during a circus parade here when the horses to a wheel cage of leopards bolted down the streets lined with people. After a half mile dash the cage was overturned injuring the driver and nearly demolishing the cage but the escape of the leopards was prevented. The horses continued their flight until lassoed by cowboys on horseback.

SUFFRAGISTS WITH VOTES WILL TEACH THE VOTERS; NATIONAL COUNCIL OPENS CAMPAIGN OF EDUCATION ON CIVIC QUESTIONS

GRAFTON, Sept. 10.—Many lives were placed in jeopardy and William Kelly, a driver, was perhaps fatally injured during a circus parade here when the horses to a wheel cage of leopards bolted down the streets lined with people. After a half mile dash the cage was overturned injuring the driver and nearly demolishing the cage but the escape of the leopards was prevented. The horses continued their flight until lassoed by cowboys on horseback.

Thaw was dropped over the border into Vermont. Alone, dazed and free he did not know what to do. The newspaper men following him took him into their car and he traveled with them. In the early afternoon they had passed from Vermont into New Hampshire. As the car progressed the newspaper men reported Thaw's movements.

Armed with written orders to deport Thaw, issued by the acting minister of the Interior, Assistant Superintendent of Immigration Blake Robertson came unheralded to Coaticook last night. He told no one of his plans except the subordinates necessary to aid in executing them.

Accompanied by his subordinates Robertson went to Thaw's quarters shortly after 8 o'clock this morning. They saw Thaw fed and dressed and about to start on what he called his day's work. Robertson, as spokesman for the group, told Thaw he had orders to deport him to Vermont.

Thaw could not have been more surprised had he been told he was free. Before he could reply, Robertson ordered him to get ready for the trip, adding that an automobile was waiting for a dash to the border.

Thaw's surprise changed to fury and picking up a bottle hurled it at Robertson. The bottle went wide of its target, crashed through a win-

JURORS DRAWN

To Serve at the Present Term of the Circuit Court of the County.

A. C. Kunkle's suit for $150 as pay for a horse killed by a train, it is alleged, against the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad Company was on trial in the circuit court Wednesday.

Thomas A. Walters was granted a divorce from Etta J. Walters upon payment of costs.

A jury in the case of L. S. Hornor and J. C. Vance, executors, against Hiram Post, failed to agree.

Additional jurors were drawn as follows:

Charles Goodwin, Robert C. Shinn, Ralph W. Young, Grover C. Smith, S. A. Talkington, O. B. Lawman, C. B. Hitt, Samuel S. Sumner and R. R. Everson.

TANNER SHOT

By a Negro Highwayman Who Holds Him Up and Robs Him.

WILLIAMSTOWN, W. Va., Sept. 10.—H. C. Turner, a well known citizen, is thought to be dying in a hospital here as the result of wounds received when he was held up and shot on the principal street of this town last night. Tanner was accosted by a negro, who pointed a revolver at him and demanded his money. Tanner made haste to comply but he did not act as quickly as the negro desired and was shot. The negro, who has not been identified, made his escape. He is today being trailed by a posse.

FASHION NUMBER

Of the Daily Telegram Will Be Issued on Wednesday, September 17.

Next Wednesday the Daily Telegram with the co-operation of the local merchants will issue a fall fashion number that will be complete and authoritative in every respect. This issue will be profusely illustrated with exact reproductions of the newest things in evening gowns, collars, af ternoon gowns, hats, street suits and dresses, blouses, furs for the women, and overcoats, suits, hats, shoes, shirts and ties for the men. Pages will also be devoted to furniture, carpets, rugs, and so on. All the popular new styles in dress will be described in interesting articles which every man and woman will want to read.

FIANCE OF CLARKSBURG GIRL COMMITS SUICIDE

SAUTELLE CIRCUS IS AN ATTRACTION

BROADSIDE FIRED

Into Navy Officials by Miss Johnson for Frank Lively Today.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Sept. 10.—Ignoring obstructions to navigation in the shape of doorkeepers and secretaries, Miss Norma Lee Johnson steered a straight course into the navy department and fired a broadside into the officials in behalf of Frank Lively, an aspirant for the naval academy, who had been rejected because he was under weight. Today Lively returns to Annapolis to undergo another examination.

Miss Johnson is private secretary to Representative Ayres, of West Virginia, who appointed Lively to the academy. In his physical examination the boy was found to be five pounds light. Miss Johnson became indignant at his rejection.

"Five pounds is a lot of avoirdupois missing in an admiral. I'll see about this," she said.

When she entered the department, hers were the only colors flying. Lively's fight for another examination had been won.

BOMB EXPLOSION

By Supposed Blackmailers Badly Wrecks a Number of Buildings.

CHICAGO, Sept. 10.—More than twenty persons were injured, three buildings were partially wrecked and windows within a radius of half a mile shattered by the explosion of a bomb in the doorway of the private bank of Alexander Comfort on South Halstead street. The explosion is believed by the police to be the work of blackmailers.

SUMMER RESORT

Having 300 Cottages is Burned and Cold Weather Brings Suffering.

SALISBURY, Mass., Sept. 10.—A chilly northeast wind swept in today and found 200 persons suffering on the Salisbury beach. Clad in thin clothing many had stood all night over the few belongings they were able to rescue from the fire that had devastated the summer resort.

Heaps of smoking ruins were all that remained of 300 cottages and seven hotels. Rumors of coming arrests and a state police investigation were current. Early today a squad of police arrived from Haverhill.

BROOMFIELD IS TO HAVE PRESBYTERY

Delegates at Jacksonburg Select That as Place for Next Meeting.

The Rev. H. T. McClelland, pastor, and J. W. Young, elder, of the First Presbyterian church, have just returned from Jacksonburg, on the Short Line, where they officially represented the church at the semi-annual meeting of the Grafton Presbytery, of which the Clarksburg church is a member. The meeting ended Tuesday evening. The presbytery embraces churches in Harrison, Marion, Taylor, Wetzel, Preston, Upshur, Lewis and Monongalia counties.

The Rev. H. G. Stoetzer, pastor of the First church at Fairmont, was elected moderator to succeed the Rev. Hugh Alexander Smith, of Mannington. The next meeting of burg.

There was a large attendance of delegates at the meeting and all were delightfully and hospitably entertained by the people at Jacksonburg.

Big Exhibitions Today and Tonight on Goff Circus Grounds.

While the Sig. Sautelle circus did not draw the usual large crowd of people from the country, the pavements along the line of the parade at noon Wednesday were well thronged and the spectators saw a splendid pageant.

The first exhibition in the afternoon on the Goff circus grounds at Broad Oaks was well attended and the performance was quite pleasing. The menagerie and Wild West were features. Another exhibition will be given at 8 o'clock tonight.

Sig. Sautelle's educated horses are a ranking attraction. No handsomer or better trained equines ever stepped proudly into a ring. Miss Rose Reynolds, with her performing lions, starts by her bravery and fearlessness. Captain Frank Cramer, the Boston of the cages, in his desperate encounter with Rajah, the man-eating lion, sends thrills and shudders down the backs of the on-lookers.

And the third bravest animal trainer and subduer, Miss Dolores Franciscos, is enrolled here as star of the animal kingdom. This brave little lady juggles with leopards, jaguars and panthers as if they were house cats. She whips them into line; sends them over and through burning hoops; jumping high obstructions, rolling and tumbling over the arena, at the will of their imperious mistress.

Combined with these unparalleled feats of wondrous skill and bravery, the big elephants amaze audiences with their remarkable intelligence and lumbering skill, so to speak. These animals are most "knowledgeable," and show admirable training, combined with animal nature novelty.

WHEELING MAN

Wants to See the President and is Taken into Custody as Suspect.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Sept. 10.—Charles W. Smith, of Wheeling, W. Va., will be examined today at the Washington asylum hospital as the result of a visit he paid to the White House yesterday when he demanded to see the president. His persistence in seeing the president attracted the attention of Jimmy Sloane, one of the secret service men on duty at the executive office, and who has watched over the safety of three presidents. He talked with Smith for some time and then had him taken into custody. Smith could explain no reason for wanting to see the president.

BROOMFIELD IS TO HAVE PRESBYTERY

Delegates at Jacksonburg Select That as Place for Next Meeting.

The Rev. H. T. McClelland, pastor, and J. W. Young, elder, of the First Presbyterian church, have just returned from Jacksonburg, on the Short Line, where they officially represented the church at the semi-annual meeting of the Grafton Presbytery, of which the Clarksburg church is a member. The meeting ended Tuesday evening. The presbytery embraces churches in Harrison, Marion, Taylor, Wetzel, Preston, Upshur, Lewis and Monongalia counties.

The Rev. H. G. Stoetzer, pastor of the First church at Fairmont, was elected moderator to succeed the Rev. Hugh Alexander Smith, of Mannington. The next meeting of burg.

There was a large attendance of delegates at the meeting and all were delightfully and hospitably entertained by the people at Jacksonburg.

Jacob Sanner, Telephone Lineman, Drinks Poison at Connellsville, Pa.

BLAMES SWEETHEART

She is Miss. Cannie Jamieson, Who Says She Knows No Cause.

 ENGAGED TO BE MARRIED SAYS MISS JAMIESON. *****

"This is a great shock to me," sobbed pretty Miss Cannie Jamieson Wednesday in her apartment at 111½ West Main street to a Telegram representative when told of the particulars of the suicide of her lover, Jacob Sanner, a Bell telephone lifeman, the night before at Connellsville, Pa.

"I know absolutely nothing as to why he should have killed himself. We were engaged to be married and he had planned to come to Clarksburg next Saturday week. We were to be married here that day and then go to his parents' home at Indian Head, Pa."

When told that mail from her had been mislaid to another Mr. Sanner at Uniontown, Miss Jamieson said that her fiancé had been worried over not hearing from her and that he had come to Clarksburg to see about it. He arrived here last Saturday and remained until Tuesday morning, when he returned to Connellsville.

"Everything was all right between us when he left," she said. "I can't understand it at all. I don't know anything about it."

Miss Jamieson said she had been ill in a Clarksburg hospital and had only recently left it. While there she wrote two or three post cards to her fiancé and had written him since. She received a letter Wednesday morning from him at Connellsville. Miss Jamieson met Sanner about two months ago in Clarksburg, at which time he was doing work for the Bell telephone company here. She has lived in this city for some time and has had employment here but had none lately owing to her illness. Her parents live in this state but she declined to state where.

CONNELLSVILLE, Pa., Sept. 10.—Disappointed in love, Jacob Sanner, aged 23, of Indian Head, Fayette county, drank an ounce of poison in a room of Baxter's boarding house here late last night and died forty-five minutes afterward. He was employed as a Bell telephone lifeman at Steubenville, O., but had been here spending a vacation.

Sanner left a note in which he said he killed himself of his own free will and asked that his parents at Indian Head and also his sweetheart living at Clarksburg, W. Va., be notified. The name of his sweetheart is given in the note as either Miss Carrie, Cannie or Cannie Jamieson, and her address as 111½ West Main street, Clarksburg. The first name of the girl was not fully legible.

At the time of the suicide the restaurant below was crowded with people who heard groans from an upstairs room and investigated.

Before entering his room, Sanner went to the Wyman hotel, where he wrote the following note:

"This is to certify that Jack Sanner did commit suicide at his own pleasure. Notify my father and mother at Indian Head, Pa. Also notify my sweetheart at Clarksburg, W. Va. My sweetheart is the cause of this and drinking. My sweetheart is in ill health. My people will pay for my funeral expenses. Please remove to Stader's morgue at once. Please notify my last love, Miss Carrie Jamieson, Clarksburg, W. Va., East Main street. N. L. Sanner. At Indian Head, Pa., is my father. I sign this with my will." (Signed) "JACOB SANNER."

Sanner was rushed to the Cottage state hospital, but all efforts to save his life were in vain. His lips and throat were terribly burned by the

(Continued on page eight.)

Top, left to right, Miss Helen M. Todd, Mrs. John E. Raker, Mrs. Anna B. Pitzer, Mrs. Henry F. Ashurst, Mrs. William T. Thompson, wife of the senator from Kansas.